Keith D. Meyer (D.Min., M.Div.) has served three churches as senior pastor and was the executive pastor at Church of the Open Door. He is an adjunct professor at Denver Seminary and a senior teaching fellow with the Renovaré Spiritual Formation Institute. He is one of the authors of The Kingdom Life: A Practical Theology of Discipleship and Spiritual Formation (NavPress).

Meyer is a speaker, teacher and retreat leader through his organization, Becoming the Change Ministries. He provides individualized coaching for the personal formation of pastors and leaders and consults with staff teams, churches and Christian organizations to develop corporate plans for becoming communities of formation and mission. He also provides training for leaders to develop plans of regular soul care for themselves, their staff and congregations.

Meyer is a contributing editor for Leadership Journal and for the academic journal of Biola/Talbot's Institute for Spiritual Formation, the Journal of Spiritual Formation & Soul Care.

Meyer is a member of the Evangelical Scholars in Christian Spirituality, an informal network of evangelical scholars who are actively teaching, researching or directing programs in Christian spirituality. He is also a founding member of the Theological and Cultural Thinkers group (TACT), an evangelical formation think tank of various Christian leaders from educational and parachurch organizations and churches.

He and his wife live in the Minneapolis area and have two adult children.
